Librarian's Message

It's a pleasure to present the Library's Annual Report for 2024. This year has been one of growth, innovation, and continued commitment to supporting the academic and research needs of our institution. I would like to take this opportunity to highlight some of our key achievements and outline our vision for the future.

One of the major focuses for the library in 2024 has been the expansion of our collections. We have added over 939 new titles and 1,930 volumes of books in JHCSC system library, with a strong emphasis on emerging fields of study and interdisciplinary research. The increase in digital engagement demonstrates our library's evolving role in a hybrid learning environment.

To better serve our community, we've made important upgrades to our digital platforms and in-library technologies. Our new integrated digital access allowing users to seamlessly access e-books, academic journals, and databases from anywhere. Alongside this, we have introduced a mobile app in using our OPAC in searching the availability of books in the library to enhance the user experience.

These innovations are not just about keeping up with technology—they are about ensuring that all students, regardless of location or learning style, can access the information they need.

As always, we remain committed to listening to our users. A survey conducted earlier this year revealed our users were satisfied with the library's services. Our students are satisfied with the quality of our resources, the helpfulness of our staff, and the welcoming environment of our spaces. These responses reaffirm that we are moving in the right direction, but also highlight areas where we can continue to improve.

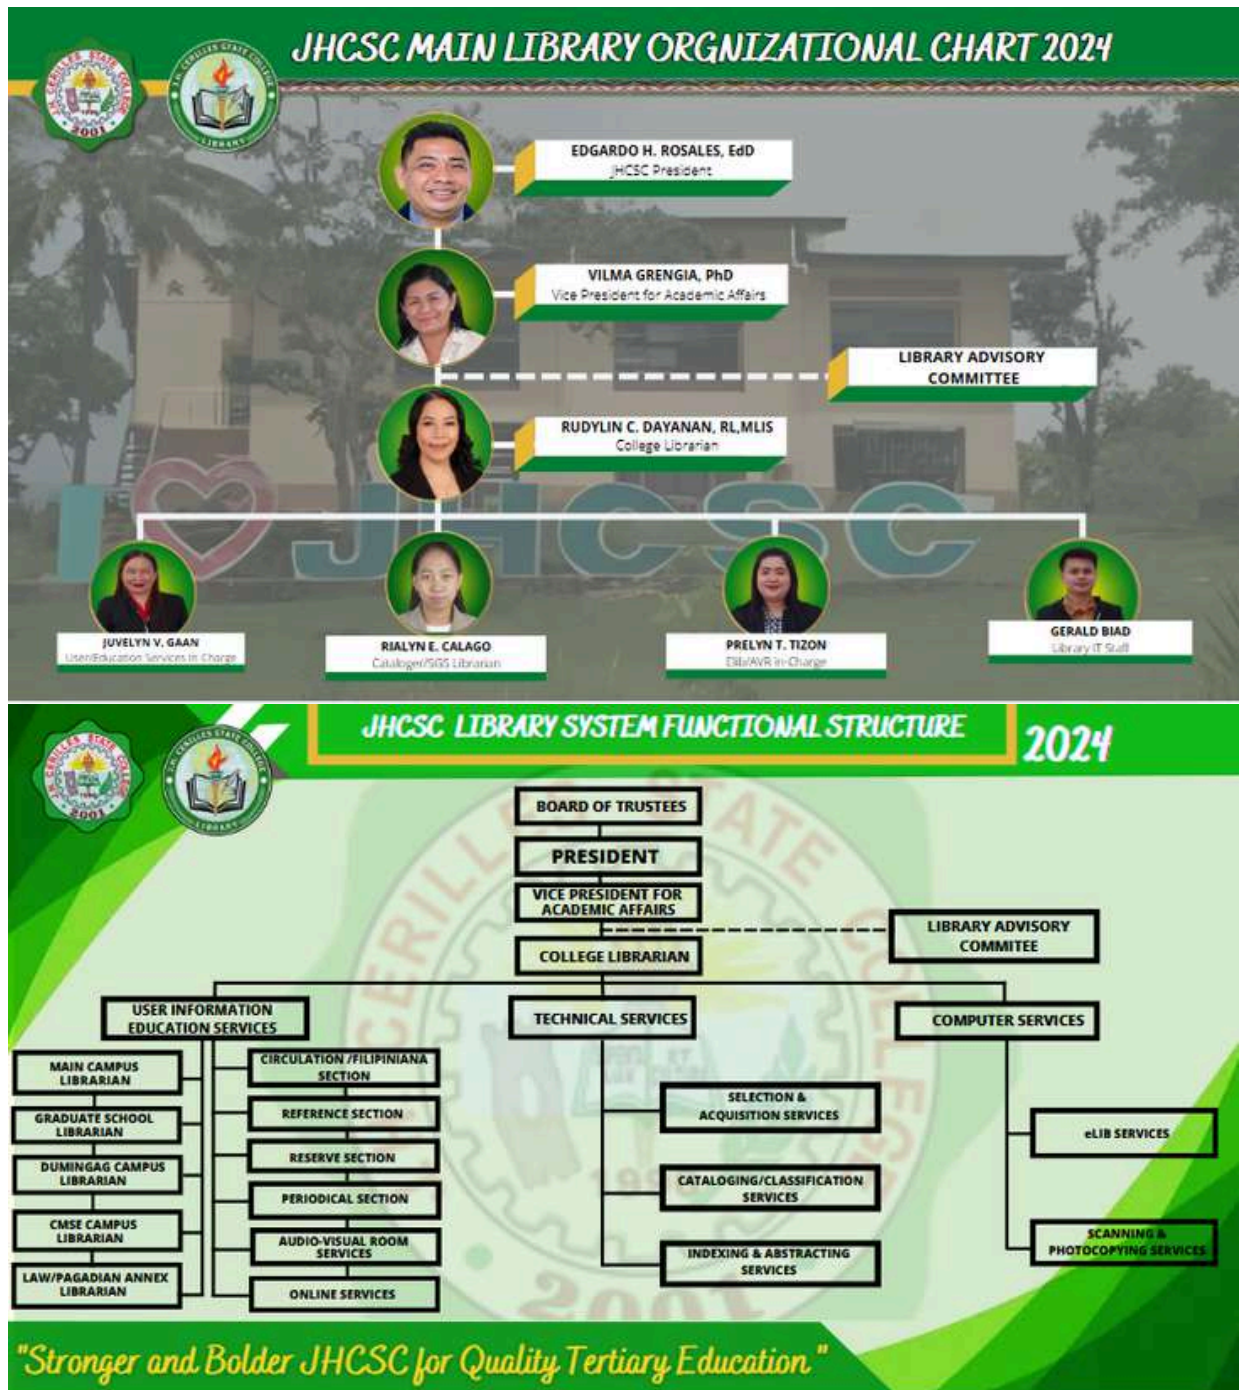

In closing, I would like to thank our incredible library staff for their hard work and dedication. Without their tireless efforts, none of these achievements would have been possible. I also want to thank our President Dr. Edgardo H. Rosales, VPAF Mr. Wilfredo M. Barnido, Jr., VPRERG Dr. Jerry B. Superales, VPAA Dr. Vilma C. Grengia, faculty, and students for their continued engagement and feedback. It is your use of our services and your trust in the library that drives us to keep improving.

As we move into the future, we will continue to adapt and innovate to meet the needs of our users, always striving to provide the best possible resources and support. Thank you all for your ongoing support of the library, and we look forward to another successful year ahead.

Organizational Chart and Structure

The JHCSC Main Library Organizational Chart for 2024 illustrates the library's hierarchy and key personnel. At the top is Dr. Edgardo H. Rosales, the President of JHCSC, followed by Dr. Vilma C. Grengia, the Vice President for Academic Affairs. Ms. Rudylin C. Dayanan, RL, MLIS, serves as the College Librarian, managing the library's daily operations and ensuring efficient services. She works in coordination with the Library Advisory Committee, which provides guidance and support. The library team consists of four staff members: Rialyn E. Calago, RL, Juvelyn V. Gaan, Prelyn T. Tizon, and Gerald Biad, who contribute to maintaining and enhancing library services for the academic community. The chart reflects the institution's dedication to organized and collaborative library management.

A Table of Organization is the graphical representation of an organization's structure having the purpose of illustrating the relationships and chain of command within the organization.

Administration

Seminars

In 2024, Ms. Rudylin C. Dayanan and Ms. Erma S. Ambalong actively participated in professional development events, demonstrating their dedication to continuous learning and growth in the field of librarianship. They both attended the PAARL, Inc seminar held in CDO City from April 23-26, where they gained valuable insights on emerging trends in library services. Additionally, Ms. Dayanan attended the BSP and PGLL Books Launching at Ateneo de Zamboanga University in May, further expanding her knowledge of new publications and their potential impact on library collections. As the Region 9 representative, she also took part in the MASTSLiNet Officers Meeting at USEP, Davao City on June 14-15, collaborating with fellow librarians to strengthen regional library networks. These engagements reflect their commitment to staying current in the field, enhancing the library's services, and contributing to the broader academic community.

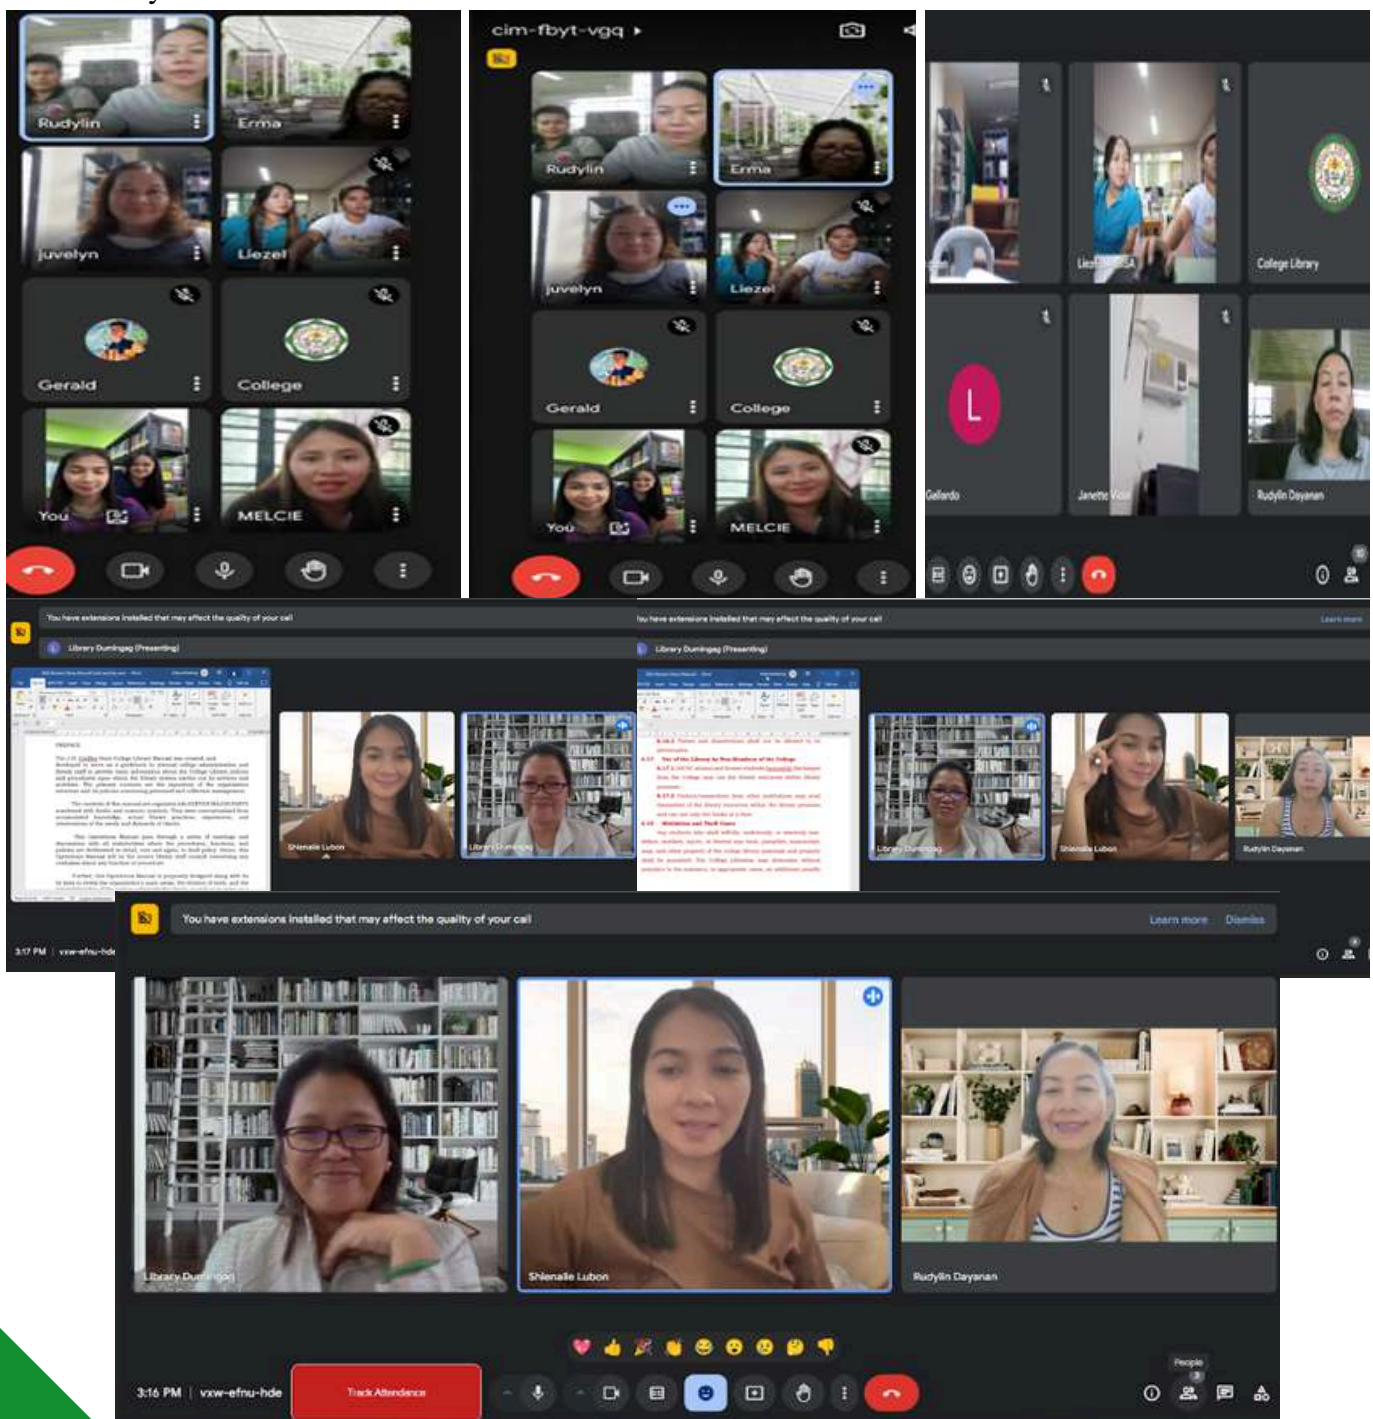

08

Library Staff

Meeting

The JHCSC Library staff conducted regular online meetings to effectively monitor library operations and address any issues or concerns that arose. These collaborative discussions fostered communication and ensured that the library continued to run smoothly while adapting to the needs of its users. In these meetings, staff members reviewed service delivery, shared updates on new initiatives, and strategized ways to enhance the user experience. Additionally, they utilized this platform to gather feedback and brainstorm solutions, thereby promoting a culture of continuous improvement within the library. This proactive approach not only strengthened teamwork but also ensured that the library remained responsive and relevant to the academic community it serves.

Performance Review and Year End Party

On December 19, 2024, the library staff gathered in Pagadian City for a significant year-end party and performance review. The event kicked off with a thorough presentation of the library's accomplishments over the past year. The staff took the time to highlight milestones achieved, challenges faced, and the various initiatives that had made a positive impact on the library and its services. This session also served as an opportunity to engage in thoughtful discussions about future plans for the library. Ideas were shared on how to improve library operations, expand services, and continue to foster a positive learning environment for the community.

Following the review and discussions, the staff enjoyed a lively celebration that included parlor games, which brought laughter and friendly competition, and a gift exchange that added a personal touch to the festivities. These activities helped strengthen camaraderie among the staff and allowed them to bond outside of their professional roles. The event ended on a joyful and uplifting note, marking a successful year of collaboration and setting the stage for new goals and achievements in the year ahead. It was a fitting conclusion to a year of hard work, growth, and shared success.

10 Collection

In 2024, the JHCSC Library enriched its collections by significantly expanding its Filipiniana, and professional subject offerings to better serve its diverse user base. The Filipiniana collection now features a broader range of materials, including historical texts, literary works, and contemporary publications that highlight Filipino culture, history, and society. Furthermore, the library developed specialized professional subject collections aligned with various academic programs, including education, English language, political science, social work, engineering, information technology, agriculture, environmental science, forestry and criminology. These targeted resources include textbooks, reference materials, and relevant journals, ensuring that students have access to the necessary tools for their academic and professional success. By expanding these collections, the library aims to support learning, promote cultural awareness, and enhance the overall educational experience for its users.

11 Utilization and Services

The library is an important place for learning and accessing information. People use the library to borrow books, read magazines, use computers, and access online resources like e-books and research databases. It also provides spaces for quiet study, group discussions, and projects. The library offers helpful services, such as guiding users to find the information they need, teaching how to use resources effectively, and hosting activities like reading programs, book clubs, and workshops. These services make the library more than just a place for books—it's a hub for learning, creativity, and community connections.

By adapting to the needs of its users, the library continues to support education, research, and a love for reading in everyone it serves.

The library has made it easier for users to access information by creating the OPAC mobile app. This app allows users to search for books and other materials before visiting the library, saving them time and effort. With just a few clicks, users can check the availability of resources and plan their visit more efficiently.

This service is part of the library's commitment to making its resources more accessible and convenient for everyone. By combining technology with traditional library services, the library ensures a smoother and more user-friendly experience for all.

12 Utilization and Services

The library's book utilization in 2024 reached an impressive total of 13,573, demonstrating the institution's critical role in supporting academic and research activities. The 300s (Social Sciences) emerged as the most accessed category, with 4,106 uses, highlighting its importance for disciplines such as sociology, economics, and political science. The 600s (Technology) and 500s (Natural Sciences) followed with 1,988 and 1,158 uses, respectively, reflecting the strong engagement of students in fields like engineering, health sciences, and the natural sciences.

Usage trends varied across the year, with the highest activity recorded in September (1,790) and August (1,762), likely driven by academic deadlines and project requirements. Significant spikes in utilization were also noted in April and May (1,320 each), possibly attributed to mid-year academic workload. On the other hand, July (897) experienced the lowest usage, aligning with a potential academic break period. While academic programs, reflecting its support for the diverse educational needs of students, the programs of Bachelor of Secondary Education (BSED) recorded the highest usage with 4,161 books accessed throughout the year, highlighting the program's reliance on library resources for academic success. This was followed by Bachelor of Elementary Education (BEED) with 2,304 uses and Bachelor of Science in Civil Engineering (BSCE) with 1,135 uses, indicating significant demand for resources in these disciplines.

Monthly trends revealed peak utilization in September (1,815) and August (1,666), likely coinciding with academic activities such as exams, project deadlines, and research requirements. The months of April (1,360) and May (1,290) also experienced significant usage, aligning with mid-year academic tasks. In contrast, July (329) showed the lowest usage, likely due to a semester break or vacation period.

In 2024, the library received several essential equipment and furnishings that enhanced its facilities and services. Among the technological upgrades were a computer desktop, speakers, a hard drive, a UPS (uninterruptible power supply), and a printer, which collectively improved the library's operational efficiency and access to digital resources. An air conditioning unit was also installed to create a more comfortable and conducive environment for reading and studying.

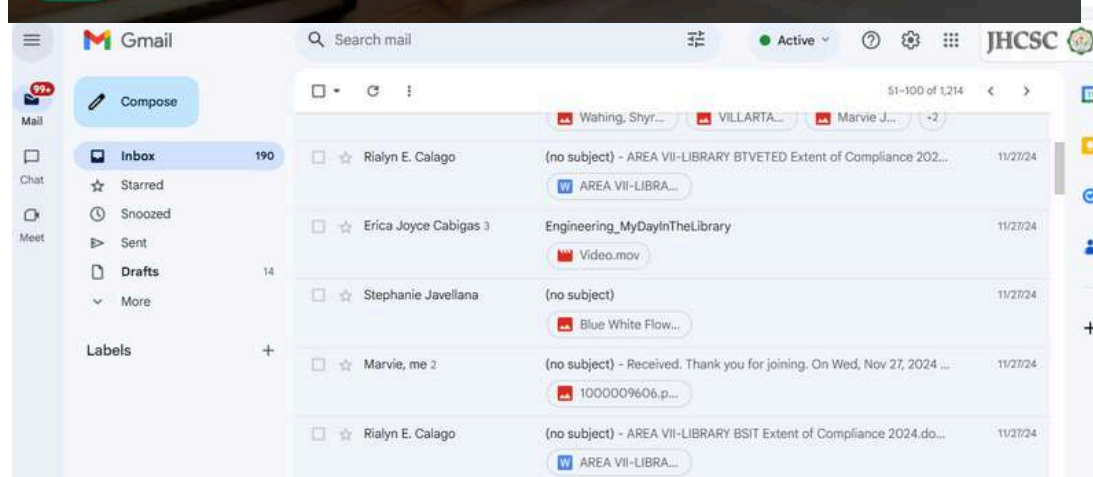

To further enhance the library's infrastructure, a water dispenser was provided for the convenience of patrons and staff. New furniture, including a sofa, bookshelves, a steel cabinet, study carrels, and a map stand, was added to improve organization and provide a more comfortable and functional space for library users. These additions not only improved the overall user experience but also ensured that the library remained a welcoming and efficient facility for all.

16 Library Services

The library's Facebook page has grown significantly, boasting 8,144 followers as of 2024. This platform serves as a vital communication channel for the library, allowing it to stay connected with its audience and provide timely updates on its services, programs, and events. Through this page, followers can access information about new book arrivals, upcoming seminars, library initiatives, and any changes in operating hours. Additionally, the page fosters engagement by encouraging feedback, sharing educational resources, and promoting a sense of community among library users. Its purpose is not only to inform but also to inspire a culture of learning and collaboration.

The library's online presence extends beyond its Facebook page to include a dedicated website. This website serves as a comprehensive resource, offering visitors access to information about the library's services, collections, events, and digital resources. It complements the Facebook page by providing in-depth content, tools for research, and a platform for online engagement with library users.

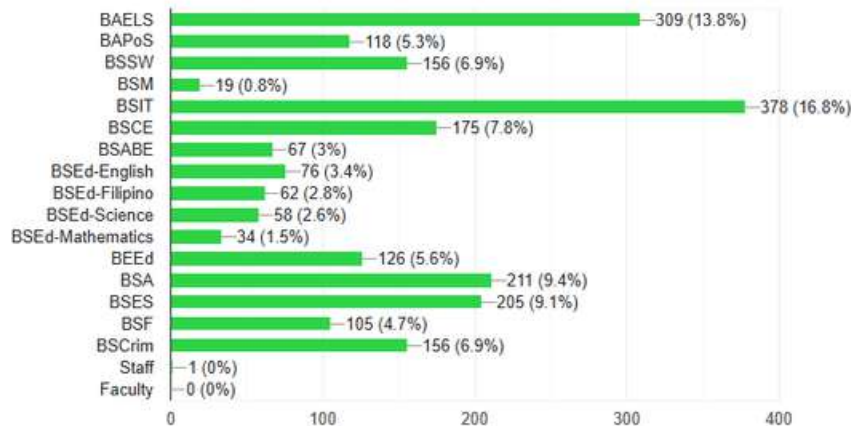

In addition to its Facebook page and website, the library offers email services to enhance its online accessibility. Through this platform, users can request eBooks, receive updates, and communicate directly with the library staff for inquiries and other needs. This service ensures efficient and personalized assistance, contributing to a seamless library experience.

17 Library Services

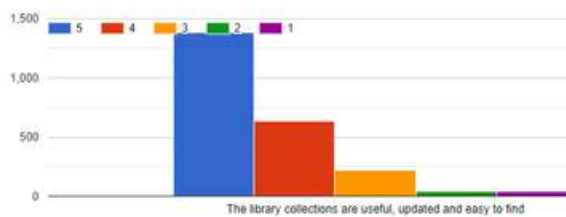

Based on the 2024 Library Clientele Satisfaction Survey, the majority of respondents are from the BSIT program, making up 16.8% of the total 2,245 responses. BAELS students follow closely, comprising 13.8%, while BSA and BSES students represent 9.4% and 9.1%, respectively. Other notable groups include BSSW and BSF students, each contributing 6.9%, and BEED students at 5.6%. Respondents from BSCE and BAPoS account for 7.8% and 5.3%, respectively. Smaller contributions are seen from programs like BSABE (3%) and various BSEd specializations, including English (3.4%), Filipino (2.8%), Science (2.6%), and Mathematics (1.5%). These figures highlight significant engagement from technology, education, and social work students, emphasizing their active utilization and feedback on library services.

18 Library Services

The library, under the initiative of the librarian, has introduced a thoughtful and supportive program to offer free pandesal and coffee to students during major exams. This initiative aims to provide not only nourishment but also encouragement to students facing the stress and challenges of examination periods. By creating a welcoming and comforting environment, the library demonstrates its commitment to student well-being, fostering a sense of community and support. This small yet meaningful gesture reflects the library's role as not just a place for learning but also as a hub of care and connection for its patrons.

19 Library Activities

The library hosts a variety of vibrant activities to engage the community and promote a love of reading and learning. The Book Fair offers an opportunity for book enthusiasts to explore and purchase a wide range of books, while the celebration of World Poetry Day brings attention to the power of poetry through events like readings and interactive workshops. The Bookworm of the Month program recognizes dedicated readers, motivating others to cultivate regular reading habits. National Book Week is another major event, featuring author talks, book displays, and fun activities to celebrate the joy of books and reading. In addition, Library and Information Services (LIS) Month highlights the importance of libraries and information professionals. Together, these events foster an environment that encourages intellectual growth, creativity, and a stronger connection between the library and its patrons.

J.H. Cerilles State College hosted the Book Fair 2024, a two-day event that took place on April 29-30, 2024, at the JHCSC Pagadian Annex Library. The event was led by Rudylin C. Dayanan, RL, MLIS, the college librarian. Dr. Vilma C. Grengia, Vice President for Academic Affairs, welcomed everyone at the opening. The Book Fair featured several exhibitors, providing attendees with the chance to explore new books and enjoy the world of literature. This event was made possible through the leadership of President Dr. Edgardo H. Rosales, who supported education and encouraged a love of reading. The fair successfully brought together book lovers, and all who attended experienced the wonder of books.

The Golden Legacy
By: Gilig, Reniel C.

In the labyrinth of his thoughts,
One day, he realized he was lost.
Like the sparrows in a breezy sky,
In gales, they're drifted high.

In clouded misery, his mind a whirlwind—
Painting scenarios in shades of doubt,
Through winding forests, he wanders to trace:
Hoping for hints among the trees.

In the midst of a calm night,
In his bed, he begged his pillow very tight.
Despite the doubts, he finds repose—
And in his dreams, a luminous shadow implored a pause.

As the moonlight glows from the outside,
A golden, blinding ray was gleaming on his side.
Here come the labyrinth, began to be find.
The knot in gales is now taking his grotesque mind.

As he traipsed through the perplexities of his nights,
A golden legacy, a trouble in his eyes.
In his embrace, he leans and cling
His doubting soul is now leaving in wing.

So, I shall be telling you this pride:
The knot in his labyrinth is now with the golden legacy's' ride.
His eyes are looking like the star.

An Original Literary Piece
Written in Maguindanao Dialect

"Nalagak na mga Nakalindang"
Tagawit: Nahiyan Dava

Sa mga waga na mga nakalindang, nakalindang tano,
Sa mga natatagan nila, maramagay sa kapanganakilana.
Mga kagikotaw a natagak nila, maramagay sa sigay sa kalibutngan.
Sa dala kapad a nayot nila ya tatayo na kapanganan.

Kano talan a mapaya, nakatundag tano,
Kapya na parangayan, spaninind'g tano,
Ulit a mapaya, enipamando nila,
Kagikotaw na dala kapanganayan pan.

Kapya na kagikotaw, alon a kowandon,
Kapanganayan na ita a kahanda nila.
Kagikotaw kapanganayan, para sa kagikotaw,
Sa kagikotaw na enged, alon a kagikotaw.

Dayt a bradadnan nando di b'lipatanan,
Para sa dala, para sa dala talan,
Mapya a paninind'g nando mapya kapagitanan,
Nyaboy natagak na mga nakalindang.

A Legacy
By: Fuertes, Julifier Jr.

Each step a climb, too far, too close
Shoulder's goal, I'm still on toes
Press on with strength, heedless mind
I'm still on knees, next path can't find

I'm still on toes wounded, bleeding
Starting again, begin crying
I'm on the knees, I am suffering
In the silence, echoes of pain's refrain

On the giant's hips I smile with sorrow
Few more steps they'll see me glow
With scars as testament of my knowledge
I am a legacy, I will never age

So let me linger, let me stay
Upon this giant, where I sway
With knowledge as numerous as stars that sprawl
On the giant's shoulder, I stand tall

Standing on The shoulders of giants
By: Agbon, Jemarose

As the night grows quiet,
The beautiful stars are blazing on their own,
A nod to the great giants of the past,
Their legacy will always be alive.

Little did we know,
We are standing on the shoulders of giants
They rise to the unending battle.
With brave hearts and fearless souls,
They are the heroes and pride of our country.

They took a stands, with weapons and words
For their country, and independence,
They persevered despite of difficulties,
With full of courage in their hearts.

We stand tall, because of those great giants.
They prevented those colonists from harming us.
Their heroic deeds will never forgotten.
Every Filipino's heart contains their spirit.
Their adversities helped us gain our independence.

Higanteng Kasabihan
By: Angeleth A. Espinosa

Pipitin nitong magkulong sa kamalian.
Ituturing kang traydor ng sangkatauhan,
Tingin ng hari sa iyo'y laging kalaban.

Takot sila sa katotohanan,
Takot sila sa mga matang may alam.
Kahibangan ang tawag sa paninindigan,
Inililbing ng buhay ang may katapangan.

Sa mundong umiikot sa kapangyarihan,
Kasakiman lagi ang binubuong sandata.
Mataas ang tingin sa sariling paa,
Kahit bulag na ito sa sariling karma.

Hindi mahal ang katotohanan,
Halaga lagi nito ang kasayaan.
Sakay lagi ang higanteng paninindigan,
Kapalit nito ang tanawin ng kaalaman---

By: Gabuero, Kaeth Crestel C.

Standing on the shoulders of giants —
everything seems so small up here, like there are no divisions of continents
and we could call a poet, like Shakespeare

i stand on the shoulder of my Ancestors
Giants in their legacy, it would make me small their stories i would carry in my ventures
i would meet one with passion, so i would enthral

i stand on the shoulder of those who have sacrificed
And yet the water is still above my head
Their history will become a poltergeist
And will haunt me fueled with justice, oh the dread —

i stand on the shoulder of what humanity could be —
Storm and fury, in all their glory.

During the celebration of World Poetry Day, students had the opportunity to showcase their poetic talents by submitting their original works. This event provided a platform for them to express their thoughts, emotions, and creativity through the art of poetry. The submitted poems were a true reflection of the students' dedication to the craft, each one offering a unique perspective on various themes. The celebration not only highlighted the students' literary abilities but also fostered a deeper appreciation for poetry as a form of artistic expression.

Ms. Jonnaflor M. Claret, a BEd-I student from the School of Teacher Education, was honored as the Bookworm of the Month in recognition of her exceptional commitment to reading. Throughout the month, Ms. Claret consistently demonstrated her passion for literature by regularly borrowing books from the library, actively engaging with a variety of reading materials. Her enthusiasm for reading extends beyond just borrowing books; it reflects her deep appreciation for learning and her dedication to enhancing her knowledge. This consistent effort and love for reading have not only helped her grow as a student but have also made her a role model for others. Her achievement serves as an inspiration to fellow students, encouraging them to embrace the joys of reading and to make it a regular part of their academic and personal lives.
